Update on Damages Caused by Floods in Thailand

Nidec Corporation (NYSE: NJ) (the “Company”) announced today an update as of November 7, 2011 on flood damages to Nidec Group companies in Thailand.

Following the restart of operations at the Rangsit Factory on October 25, the operations of one of our Ayutthaya Factories, whose precinct had been partially inundated, resumed on November 4. We will continue our efforts to further improve the utilization of the factories whose operations have resumed and to bring the Company’s other flood-stricken factories back into operation to the earliest extent possible.

The exact amount of damage and the effect of the floods on the Company’s performance are being assessed currently. We will continue to report on any actual or potential impact on the Company’s business performance in a prompt manner.
