Application Guidelines for the 11th Nagamori Awards

Motors are now an indispensable part of our daily lives. It is claimed that motors use 55% of the electricity generated around the world today. This is why the research and development of motors is now a truly significant theme for both creating affluent lives and permanently conserving the global environment. To further promote motor-related technological researches and developments, we will start accepting applications for the 11th Nagamori Awards, as described below:

1. Fields covered by Nagamori Awards

Technical fields related to motors, actuators and power generators, and their control methods, application technologies, etc.

2. Applicant eligibility

Applicants must be entry to mid-career researchers or development engineers who have made an outstanding achievement in the fields covered by the Nagamori Awards.

Entry to mid-career – normally defined as no more than 30 years of research after obtaining the Bachelor's degree.

3. Application period

November 01, 2024 – January 31, 2025

4. Application procedure & forms

1) Nomination

Self-nomination or nomination from academic institution are accepted.

A recommendation letter by an expert in the field covered by the Awards, or a senior member of your Academic Society, organization, research department, etc. must be submitted.

2) Application procedure

Download the application forms (written recommendation, curriculum vitae, and achievements) from the “Nagamori Awards” section of our Foundation's website, and fill it out in either English or Japanese.

<https://www.nidec.com/en/nagamori-f>

(1) Applicants are required to submit the following documents:

- 1) The application forms designated by Nagamori Foundation (two Word documents)
 - Written recommendation (It is OK to use a form designated by your institution.)
 - Curriculum vitae and AchievementsThe above information should preferably be provided in English (this section only).
- 2) Supporting documents and information that describe your achievements
In principle, these documents and information should be in either English or Japanese.
Documents or information written in any other language may not be used as reference.

Please note:

Nagamori Awards aim to recognize the works of those who achieved innovative research and development results especially through active engagement in motor-, actuator-, and power generation-related research to address such major issues as “creating affluent lives” and “permanently conserving the global environment.” Any format may be used to describe your innovative research or development achievement so long as it is in the field covered by our Awards, but your achievement must be clearly understood in a form of writing such as a thesis, a patent, or technical report (written by you alone or jointly with others).

(2) Application method

Please apply by E-mail, attaching all the documents in (1) above and also physically mailing us the hardcopy of the documents as well. The mail containing the documents should be postmarked on or before January 31, 2025. The Word files designated by Nagamori Foundation, that include a written recommendation, a curriculum vitae, and a record of your achievements should be mailed in their original format, not converted into an image file (PDF, etc.).

Please kindly notify us immediately after you have mailed your documents by emailing us at n.awards@nidec.com, with a title, "Nagamori Awards Application (Your Name)", attaching all your application documents electronically.

Please note:

- The submitted documents and other information will not be returned under any circumstances.
- The submitted documents and other information will be used only for the purpose of selecting Nagamori Awards winners.
